Root of Crises

1

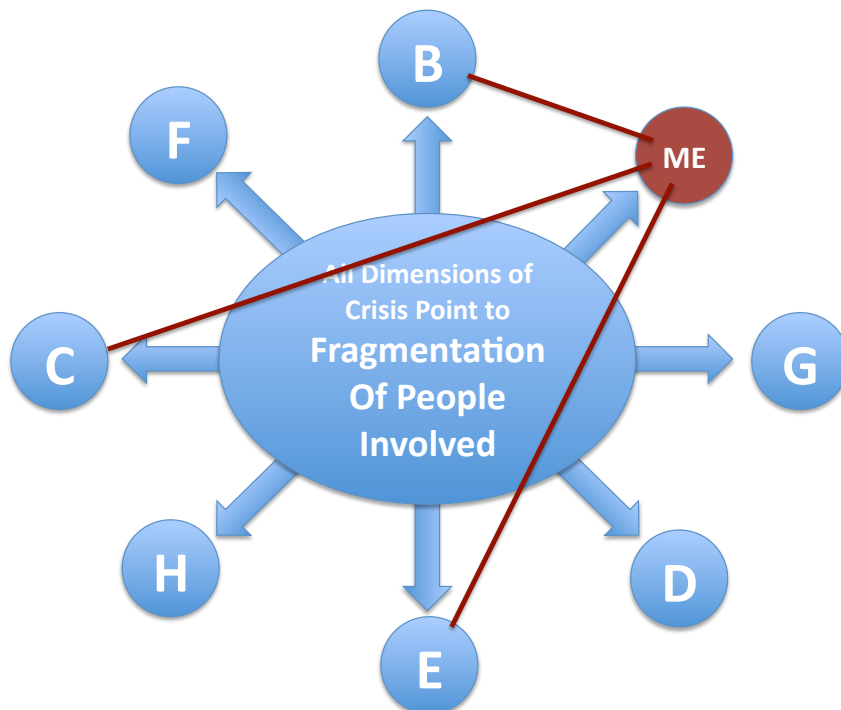

Way Out

Who has to talk to Whom?

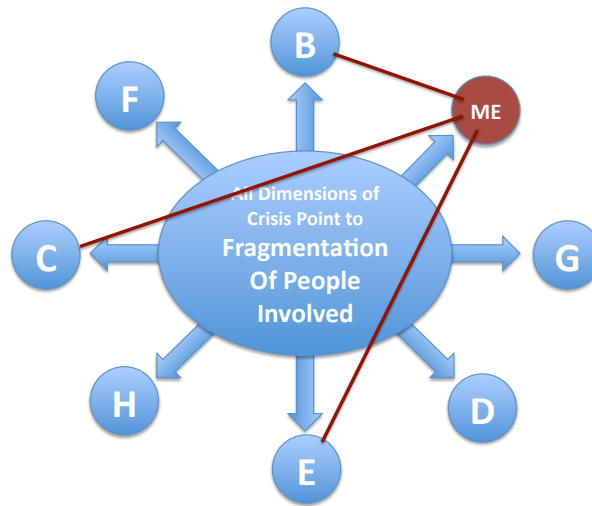

2

So To Whom Do "I" Have to Talk?

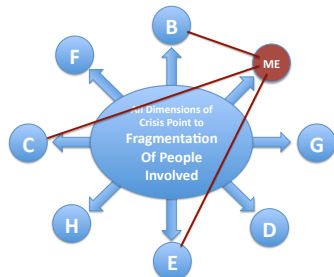

3

About What?

4

Approach To Conversation

- Understand and Own
 - My charge
 - My fear
 - My guilt
 - Etc.
- How will these show up in my reactions to the other right now?
- Always begin by checking assumptions about the other
 - What did you mean by...
 - What was your intention in...
- LISTEN, Reflect back
- Let go of expectations of outcomes, admit "I don't know what will happen here."
- No demands of the other
- Create bigger and bigger space
- Allow the other and myself to change (releasing fixed images)
- Practice and become a model for this form of Presence and communication

5

This is a Systemic Issue

- The System is in crisis
 - Creates its own charge
 - Others attach to it
- The Systemic crisis has come about over decades of history.
- It cannot be changed in a twinkling of an eye

6

But We Can Take Responsibility for Our Future

- While current actions cannot change where we are, current actions can change where we shall be.
- We do not know what will happen as we change, whether or not we are too late for the option we would like.
- But change we must, if we want different outcomes in the future.

7

My Role in How We Got Here

- Remember that where we are right now is due to each of our behaviors over the past decades.
- Positive and Negative aspects of the State we are in
- Ask “How have my behaviors, beliefs, demands, will, love, wisdom, commitment, etc. contributed to where we are now?” (again, positive and negative)
- Feel remorse for any contribution to problems
- Commit to an intention to change.
- Ask for help from the group and from God

8

Be Present to the Organic Process

- What wants to happen here?
 - What wants to die?
 - What wants to be more fully alive?
- Don't stop what wants to happen
- Don't add a forcing current to what wants to happen
- Be present to what wants to happen here
- Surrender to what wants to happen here

9

In Summary

- Create a space for conversation as needed
 - Groups who have to speak to each other
 - Individuals who have to speak to groups or others
- Own my role in how we got to where we are
 - Positive
 - Negative
- Feel remorse for any contribution to the negative
- Commit to intend to change
- Surrender to what wants to happen
- Transparency in Communication
- Hold positive intentionality toward manifesting what is possible and what Spirit wants to manifest here
