

Sacred Dimensions of the Pathwork

3-Day Engagement

The Courage to Surrender

Friday 8/30 – Monday 9/2, 2019

(Labor Day weekend)

Led by Erena Bramos, Donovan Thesenga

“Every thing that happens is God’s will. If it were not, it would not exist even for an instant.” Meister Eckhart, c. 1300

“You cannot eliminate your fears, and your distrust of others, unless you constantly renew the practice of total surrender to the highest within yourself.

“All created beings hang together on a chain of interdependence—physically, emotionally and spiritually. When the weight of dependence is put where it belongs—on God—then you can create a healthy center of gravity anchored deep within your soul, for that is where to find Him. His presence merges with your higher self. You truly become one.” (L258)

So, we are urged to hope for, and expect, the very highest and most thrilling. Yet we often fear to hope for too much. And we settle for a kind of humility which in fact conceals timidity.

In this workshop we will seek the coming together of courage and surrender, for we need courage to go on surrendering to the very deepest and the very highest.
