

Sacred Dimensions of the Pathwork

3-Day Online Engagement Affirming Life in Each Moment

Welcoming the Humility which Allows the Embrace of Uncertainty

Thursday 9/23 – Sunday 9/26, 2021

Led by Erena Bramos

Like all gifts given us, which when accepted require that we honor them, the gift of life, the Guide tells us, requires that we take on the obligation to affirm it.

Affirming life in each moment ... the simplest, really, and most deeply frightening of commitments as it requires the abandonment of any attachment to illusionary ideas which have us believing that we can be both in control of our experiences and in alignment with divine energy simultaneously.

In lecture #123 (Liberation and Peace by Overcoming the Fear of the Unknown) the Guide tells us that it is the fear to let go of any identification with a limited belief in who we are and what we can bear to experience, which renders us helpless in our lives and alienates us from our deepest longing to be in alignment with Grace.

And he goes on inviting us to remember that, if we meet ourselves deeply (beyond the dictates of our idealized self-image) “with all our desires, fears, and needs, our apprehensions and reactions — right or wrong — at this and every moment, we will find the ETERNAL NOW in which we can live fearlessly with rightful confidence in the unknown”

In this weekend, we will create the space in which, together, we can find the courage of humility which can guide us in affirming life beyond any firm beliefs of right or wrong, the wisdom to embrace uncertainty.
