

Sacred Dimensions of the Pathwork

3-Day Engagement ONLINE

Embarking into the Unknown

Module 13-2 Thursday 12/12 – Sunday 12/15, 2024

With Kathleen Goldberg assisted by Beth Hedquist

"Since death is certain and the time of death is uncertain, what is the most important thing?" Now?

Pema Chodron, Welcoming the Unwelcome

"I want to give my very very best to the process of living, to every aspect of my life and to contribute to the very best forces that are within me. Wherever I do not do this and am too blind to be aware of it, I wish that the universal intelligence in me guide me to this awareness. I wish to pay attention to this."

L161 Unconscious Negativity Endangers Surrender of the Ego to Involuntary Processes

"You must die many deaths right now, every day of your life, in order to discover the eternality of life. Only then will you live fearlessly."

L 210 Visualization process for growing into the unitive state

"Deep down you always feared that by giving over to God you would lose yourself. But now you find, as palpable reality, that Jesus' words are true: you must lose yourself-in God-in order to find yourself."

L245 Cause and Effect on Various Levels of Consciousness

"Continue your struggle, and cease all struggle. Grope for where struggle must continue and where it must cease....So you will truly become still and know God. You will know God in all that is, in the best and worst, in what you want and what you do not want. "

L253 Continue Your Struggle and Cease All Struggle

Living in the uncertainty of this current moment in time brings so much to the surface- fear, tension, conflict, wishful thinking, fear of defeat, demand, denial, hope...This is an invitation to explore our attachments to the known world/self and to open to experience moments of wonder at what is still possible and miraculous. We can allow ourselves to let go of what needs to be released, open to what mystery brings. We will have time together sharing our experience of 'dying into' a deeper presence of truth, love and beauty within and among each other as we accept and surrender to being with what is, even so. Kathleen Goldberg will facilitate this exploration inspired by the Pathwork Guide lectures listed above.
